I'm a local Manx artist, living in Douglas on the Isle of Man. I carry out drawing, sketching and watercolour painting on a commission basis. I regularly draw and paint a variety of subjects for customers, including landscapes, portraits of people and pets. I've been lucky enough to carry out all the artwork in my gallery for various customers, here on the Isle of Man and also further afield, on a commission basis. If you require further information regarding a commission, drawing or painting etc., please contact me.
