SanMar Building Services is a one-of-a-kind office cleaning service in New York City. We work all around the metro area and are known for the best commercial cleaning NYC has to offer. Our people clean for COVID-19 with disinfecting and sanitizing protocols and are a well-trained team. We use eco-friendly methods and products that are easy on the environment and safe for people. We clean whole buildings in Manhattan along with medical offices, restaurants, schools, warehouses, and many more. Few Midtown cleaning contractors have part-time janitorial service to match our results. It's because we put client satisfaction first and take pride in our work.

We have cleaned every type of business, small and large, with flexible scheduling - our people can be there anytime you need us, 24/7. Our five-star ratings confirm we provide the best office cleaning NYC has to offer. It's a reputation we've worked hard to earn, and we're ready to show you the difference our janitors can make. At SanMar, everything we do is state-of-the-art. It means we clean with efficient team methods, have the most thorough checklists, and arrive with the latest equipment. We dust, mop, vacuum, and disinfect as few others can, and you'll notice the difference. Not many Manhattan commercial cleaning companies can rival the quality and consistency we provide. It's why our clients enthusiastically refer us to others and stay with us for many years. We provide free, no-obligation quotes and are pleased to discuss your needs at any time.
