Karmo is a car subscription service based in Australia that provides a hassle-free and flexible way for individuals to own a car. With Karmo, customers can choose from a variety of cars and pay a monthly fee that covers all of the expenses associated with owning a car, such as insurance, maintenance, and registration. This means that customers can avoid the upfront costs and long-term commitment of buying a car, while still enjoying the convenience and freedom of having their own vehicle. Karmo's mission is to make car ownership simple, affordable, and accessible to everyone.
